

My goal today is to better understand your experience with pdfFiller, how it performs and how you use the product — so we can better tailor it to our users' needs.

Feel free to be open — there are no right or wrong answers. If there's anything you find frustrating about pdfFiller, please don't hesitate to share. You won't hurt my feelings — our main goal is to learn from you.

Before we begin, would it be okay if I record our conversation? The recording will only be used internally for note-taking purposes.

Business context, use cases
